Nick Job - European Golf Professional & user of LifeWave Energy Enhancer

As a full time playing professional on the European Seniors Tour, I am continually working on my game both technically and mentally. This summer I was introduced to the LifeWave Energy patches. The results seem to be extraordinary ? the first week that I wore them I finished second in the tournament and the following week I won the tournament! I felt totally in control of the situation and as well as feeling quietly energized (they do not give you a buzz!) I was able to think clearly and calmly and handle the pressures that tournament golf puts you under. When I have won in the past I have always found the post-tournament prize-giving and TV interviews somewhat nerve-racking but this time I found myself handling it all far more easily.

The hectic schedule of the Seniors Tour would in the past have left me flat and exhausted and struggling to be competitive in the last few tournaments of the season. This year I am still raring to go and can only attribute my enhanced levels of energy to the patches.
